WHAT TAX BILL KIDNAPPING WOULD DO IN BRIDGEPORT

Tax Commissioner's Measure Would Take $480,000 Annually Out of This City.

Corporate Excess Above Local Taxation Would Reach $48,000,000.

State Would Take a Toll of I Per Cent of Latter Sum and Would Receive the Lion's Share-Discussion in Meeting of Committee on Tax Equalization.

At the meeting of the Committee on Tax Equalization last night the work to be done was informally discussed especially in connection with the Corporate Excess Tax Bill which has been proposed by Tax Commissioner Corbin. There are six members of the committee, only three of whom were present. These were Chairman William Thomas, Alderman Griffin and Lynn W. Wilson. Alderman Finlan was absent on account of a severe illness.

N. S. Jones and Assessor Frank J. Hughes, the appointees of Mayor Lee,

The committee does not regard itself as directly concerned with the Tax Excess bill, except in so far as the city may be injured by the operation of the bill through a failure of the committee to perform its duties.

It was said by a member of the committee that the Corporate Excess bill, if adopted by the legislature, would have the effect of taking out of Bridgeport some $480,000 a year.

This condition comes about in this way. The Corporate Excess bill would ascertain the value of all corporations that are now taxable for local revenues by taking the market value of its stock. There would then be deducted the value of the personal property and the real estate upon which local taxes are laid. Then a tax of one per centwould be laid upon the remainder, the yield of which will go to the state.

yield of which will go to the state.

Taking a single group of corporations it was said that they are now taxed locally for about $12,000,000.

The actual value of their real estate and personal property is about $55,-000,000. Allowing $5,000,000 for the value of the good will and franchises, which is regarded as an exceedingly products figure the total value of this derate figure, the total value of this moderate figure, the total value of this single group of properties is $60,000,000.

This being ascertained the tax books of Bridgeport would be consulted and it would be ascertained that the real estate and personal property were taxed at $12,000,000.

ed at $12,000,000. Would be deducted from the $60,000,000. The $48,000,000 so entrined would be taxed one per cent. The revenue obtained would be $480,000, or about one third of the present total revenue of the city from all sources.

Referee Makes Recommendation in Divorce Suit Against Rich Rubber Man.

Charges of Unfaithfulness Abandoned and Fiding Based on Desertion Charge.

Husband Found to be Worth $280,000-Is Influential in Affairs of United States Rubber Reclaiming Company-Former Home Was Derby.

New Haven, March 26.-In the report of his findings in the divorce suit of Mrs. Annie E. Bassett of Ansonia and formerly of this city, against her husband, Theodore W. Bassett, an officer of the United States Rubber Reclaiming company of New York city, as filed in the superior court yesterday, State Referee William Hammersley holds that Mrs. Bassett's allegation of deserion has been proved. On the question of alimony the referee finds that Mr. Bassett is worth $280,000, and by agreement of counsel, he fixes $62.500 as the amount of alimony which Mrs. Bassett should receive if she is granted a de-cree by Judge Case when the matter comes before him in the superior court son S. Bryant, deputy collector of in-ternal revenue in this city, and until her marriage to Mr. Bassett on Octob-er 15, 1891, she lived in this city and was well known in social circles here Mr. Bassett at the time of his marriage was in the rubber manufacturing business at Derby and was reputed to be one of the richest men in the Naugatuck valley.

Mrs. Bassett's suit was filed in the superior court a few months ago. The original complaint made a charge against Mr. Bassett of acts of unfaith-fulness on divers dates between January 1, 1904, and July, 1905, committed, as alleged, at Derby and in New York city. The complaint further alleged desertion dating from April 17, 1905, on which date, the complaint set out, Mr. Bassett left his wife and had neglected to provide for her support from that time till the suit was filed. For a time only the usual oleadings and proceedings in a contested divorce action marked the progress of the suit, but on March 13, last, counsel in the case, liam Hammersley for a hearing on the This hearing was held at Hartford Monday. At that time some sec-recy was maintained as to the nature of the proceeding, but the affair leaked out to-day when the report was filed

If developed to-day that no evidence was offered at the hearing before the referee to prove the charge of infidelity. This allegation was disregarded by Attorneys Williams and Harriman, acting for Mrs. Bassett and they depended antirely on the allegand.

Referee Hammersley says in his re-port that the desertion charge has been the liverymen and the letters had proved, but no reference is made to tuted. Under the law Mrs. Bassett could be allowed alimony to the mount of one-third of her husband's estate, but the referee finds that Mr. Bassett is worth but $280,000. By con-sent of counsel he fixes $62,500 as a reasonable sum to be paid to her in the event of a decree being granted. This is less than one-fourth of the and is the sum which she will probably be awarded inasmuch as her counsel have consented to this ar-

The finding of the referee is not final. His report will come up before Judge Case to-morrow for final disposition.

The leading liverymen and truckmen of the city are openly opposed to the laying of wood block pavement in this city, and although the Main street business men and the majority of the members of the aldermanic street committee are said to be in favor of wood pavement the largest horse owners in the city are talking of getting out an injunction against the pavement, the suit to be brought under the auspices of the Bridgeport Liverymen's Association is the most slippery pavement that can be laid and is therefore the most inhumape, the association, of which John Heaphy is president, William Willis, vice president, and George M. Startling Discovery Made by WILL INCORPORATE Investigator Morrissev Charities Department.

Two Babies Found on Premises, One of Whom is Mere Skeleton.

Story Told by Mrs. Russell of

What appears to be an aggravated ase of baby farming was brought to light this morning when Investigator Morrissey of the Charities department was notified of a case needing his at tention at 696 Main street. The complaint was made by a prominent Park avenue lady who discovered the condition of affairs while engaged in charitable work in the vicinity.

In rooms that beggared description the investigator found Mrs. William Russell, aged 39, her daughter Gracie, 17; and two infants, one of whom was little more than a skin covered skele ton. The other is a boy, the child of given to her mother. Poverty and filth hang over this domicile to which infants, the result of illicit love, brought and maintained for a considerable length of time. The story told the investigator by Mrs. Russell follows, as nearly as it can be transcribed without offending

William Russell, the father, came to this city with his wife and daughte Gracie from Paterson, N. Y., last June Russell is now in the employ of the railroad company, as a laborer. The family left their home to avoid the dis grace which their daughter was about to bring upon them in their old home.

The other child is one of four brought to Mrs. Russell by Mrs. Charles Baker of 248 Gilbert street to be cared for at the rate of $3 per week each. Mrs. Russell obtained the infants by advertising in a local newspaper. Mrs. Baker answered the advertisements and a deal was soon made by which Mrs. deal was soon made by which Mrs. Russell was to take such infants as were brought to her by Mrs. Baker.
